Statement of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre 1914 Appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system. A different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or divert water which originates in riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store the water supply with other riparian users. ## GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. A riparian right may be in the same water source as the water source and must never have been severed from the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.
